

ANNUAL
REPORT

President's Message to Shareholders:

Jeff Davis Bancshares' subsidiary, JD Bank had both a rewarding and challenging year in 2016. The Bank continues to position itself as the Community Bank market leader in the Lake Charles MSA and made great strides in branding the Bank as the go to Community Bank in the Lafayette MSA, or Acadiana area as it is commonly called.

The rewarding part of our year had to do with our continued growth and profitability in the Acadiana market. Our Lafayette full service branch, the New Iberia full service branch and the Opelousas Loan Production Office added a little over $500,000 to our bottom line in 2016. The Lafayette Branch was the only one that did not reach profitability for the year, but had profitable months throughout the year and is projected to be profitable in 2017. We have made a decision to move forward with building a full service branch in Opelousas to replace our LPO and that should open by the end of the year. Due to the current level of loan production, this office should be profitable from day one. Even with the slow-down in the Oil and Gas Industry that has affected the Acadiana market, we are very optimistic for the long term growth potential of JD Bank in this market and will continue to seek out opportunities for growth.

The Lake Charles MSA continues to see tremendous growth due to the numerous petro-chemical plant expansions as well as new plants to export liquefied natural gas. Due to an estimated housing shortage over the next five years of 10,000 units, new subdivision development is happening now. Both our commercial lending in development loans as well as our Secondary Market Mortgage area are seeing increased activity that should continue for several years.

The challenging part of the year was our earnings were adversely impacted by legal expenses and settlement costs associated with the resolution of litigation filed against the Bank, which our Board of Directors believed was without merit and which the Bank had been vigorously contesting. In 2016 our Board of Directors elected to settle the litigation as a business decision in light of the ongoing expenses incurred in connection with this litigation.

Total assets for our company on December 31, 2016 were $806,277,000, an increase over year end 2015 levels of $799,068,000. Our total net loans increased by approximately 3% to $598,521,000. Net income at year end 2016 was $4,240,000. This is $1,533,000 lower than net income in 2015, with the difference stemming from the settlement of the above-referenced litigation.

In spite of the impact of the litigation on our income in 2016, the Company was able to continue to return to our Shareholders, $3,421,000 in the form of dividends. These dividends continue a strong history of paying our Shareholders a return for not only their investment in our Company but also for the confidence they have shown throughout the years. Of course, any future declarations and payment of dividends will be based on the required capital levels and the cash flow needs of the Company as well as future earnings.

JD Bank and Jeff Davis Bancshares are well positioned for continued conservative growth in 2017. There will be opportunities in the markets we serve and we fully expect to be able to take advantage of these when they occur. At our Board of Directors Strategic Planning session held on December 1, 2016, a decision was made to raise additional capital for the Bank through a Subordinated Debt Offering. On January 11th, 2017 the Company completed a $17.5 million debt offering which will, when leveraged, allow the Bank to grow to an asset size that will allow a greater efficiency from operations and ultimately, more profits for years to come.

JD Bank has adopted a new mission statement to start 2017; “The mission of JD Bank is to create value for our customers, employees, stockholders and communities. Through our professional and personal relationships with the people we serve, we encourage, facilitate and help to build and sustain strong communities.” We intend to deliver on our mission through our commitment to our customers and partners and this includes:

Recognizing that our employees are our greatest asset, our commitment to our employees is we work hard to provide an environment where each can grow and prosper, train, learn and contribute, so individual success is aligned with both customer and company success.

As we begin our 70th year of operations, we thank you, our Shareholders for the confidence and investment you have made in our Company. Management will continue to strive to provide you a return on your investment as well as increase the value of your holdings in our Company.

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Summary of significant accounting policies

The accounting and reporting policies of Jeff Davis Bancshares, Inc. (the Company) and its Subsidiaries conform to the accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and the prevailing practices within the banking industry. A summary of significant accounting policies is as follows:

Basis of presentation

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, JD Bank (the “Bank”) and JD Bank Insurance, LLC (formerly JD Prime Financial Services, LLC), the owner of an insurance agency. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated. Assets held in an agency or fiduciary capacity are not assets of the Bank and, accordingly, are not included in the accompanying consolidated financial statements. The Company operates as a community bank in southern Louisiana.

Nature of operations

The Bank provides a variety of banking services to individuals and businesses primarily in and around Southwest Louisiana. The Bank’s primary deposit products are demand deposits, savings deposits, and certificates of deposits, and its primary lending products are commercial, business, real estate, and consumer loans.

Comprehensive income

Comprehensive income includes net earnings and other comprehensive income (loss) which, in the case of the Company, includes only unrealized gains and losses on securities available-for-sale, net of tax.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The determination of the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses is based on estimates that are particularly susceptible to significant changes in the economic environment and market conditions. In connection with the determination of the estimated losses on loans, management obtains independent appraisals for significant collateral.

The Bank’s loans are generally secured by specific items of collateral including real property, consumer assets, and business assets. Although the Bank has a diversified loan portfolio, a substantial portion of its debtors’ ability to honor their contracts is dependent on local economic conditions and the real estate industry.

While management uses available information to recognize losses on loans, further reductions in the carrying amounts of loans may be necessary based on changes in local economic conditions. In addition, regulatory agencies, as an integral part of their examination process, periodically review the estimated losses on loans. Such agencies may require the Bank to recognize additional losses based on their judgments about information available to them at the time of their examination. Because of these factors, it is reasonably possible that the estimated losses on loans may change materially in the near term. However, the amount of the change that is reasonably possible cannot be estimated.

Other estimates that are susceptible to significant change in the near term relate to the determination of the valuation of deferred tax assets, other-than-temporary impairments of securities, and the fair value of financial instruments.

Interest bearing deposits in other banks

Interest bearing deposits in other banks mature within one year and are carried at cost, which approximates market.

Securities

Securities are accounted for in accordance with applicable guidance contained in the Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) which requires the classification of securities into one of three categories: trading, available-for-sale, or held-to-maturity.

Management determines the appropriate classification of debt securities at the time of purchase and re-evaluates this classification periodically. Trading account securities are held for resale in anticipation of short-term market movements. Debt securities are classified as held-to-maturity when the Company has the positive intent and ability to hold the securities to maturity. Securities not classified as held-to-maturity or trading are classified as available-for-sale. The Company had no significant trading account securities during the three years ended December 31, 2016. Held-to-maturity securities are stated at amortized cost. Available-for-sale securities are stated at fair value, with unrealized gains and losses, net of income taxes, reported as other comprehensive income until realized.

The Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued accounting guidance related to the recognition and presentation of other-than-temporary impairment. The accounting guidance specifies that (a) if a Company does not have the intent to sell a debt security prior to recovery and (b) it is more likely than not that it will not have to sell the debt security prior to recovery, the security would not be considered other-than-temporarily impaired unless there is a credit loss. When an entity does not intend to sell the security, and it is more likely than not, the entity will not have to sell the security before recovery of its cost basis, it will recognize the credit component of an other-than-temporary impairment of a debt security in earnings and the remaining portion in other comprehensive income. For held-to-maturity debt securities, the amount of an other-than-temporary impairment recorded in other comprehensive income for the noncredit portion of a previous other-than-temporary impairment should be amortized prospectively over the remaining life of the security on the basis of the timing of future estimated cash flows of the security.

Securities (continued)

The amortized cost of debt securities classified as held-to-maturity or available-for-sale is adjusted for amortization of premiums and accretion of discounts to maturity or, in the case of mortgage-backed securities, over the estimated life of the security. Amortization, accretion, and interest are included in interest income on securities. Gains and losses on the sale of securities are recorded on the trade date and are determined using the specific-identification method.

Derivative instruments

The Company recognizes all derivatives as either assets or liabilities in the Company's consolidated balance sheets and measures those instruments at fair value. If certain conditions are met, a derivative may be specially designated as a hedge. The accounting for changes in the fair value of a derivative depends on the intended use of the derivative and the resulting designation. The Company is not currently engaged in any activities with derivatives.

Loans

The Company grants commercial, real estate, and consumer loans to customers. A substantial portion of the loan portfolio is represented by loans in Southwest Louisiana. The ability of the Company's creditors to honor their contracts is dependent upon the real estate and general economic conditions in this area.

Loans that management has the intent and ability to hold for the foreseeable future or until maturity or pay-off are reported at their outstanding principal adjusted for any charge-offs, the allowance for loan losses, and any unamortized deferred fees or costs on originated loans. Unearned discount relates principally to consumer installment loans. Interest on loans is credited to operations based on the unpaid principal amount outstanding using methods that approximate the interest method.

The Company follows the accounting guidance on sales of financial assets, which includes participating interests in loans. For loan participations that are structured in accordance with this guidance, the sold portions are recorded as a reduction of the loan portfolio. Loan participations that do not meet the criteria are accounted for as secured borrowings. Application of this guidance also delays the accounting recognition for sales of the guaranteed portions of SBA loans for 90 days.

Certain loan origination fees and certain direct origination costs are deferred and recognized as an adjustment to the yield on the related loan. Interest on loans is recorded to income as earned. The accrual of interest on impaired loans is discontinued when, in management's opinion, the borrower may be unable to meet payments as they become due. Past due status is based on the contractual terms of the loan. All unpaid accrued interest is reversed and payments subsequently received are applied first to principal. Interest income is recorded after principal has been satisfied and as payments are received. Loans are returned to accrual status when all the principal and interest amounts contractually due are brought current and future payments are reasonably assured.

The Company considers a loan to be impaired when, based upon current information and events, it believes it is probable that the Company will be unable to collect all amounts due according to the contractual terms of the loan agreement. Factors considered by management in determining impairment include payment status, collateral value, and the probability of collecting scheduled principal and interest payments when due. Loans that experience insignificant payment delays and payment shortfalls generally are not classified as impaired. The Company's impaired loans include troubled debt restructurings, and performing and non-performing major loans for which full payment of principal or interest is not expected. Non-major homogenous loans, which are evaluated on an overall basis, generally include all loans under $100,000. The Company calculates an allowance required for impaired loans based on the present value of expected future cash flows discounted at the loan's effective interest rate, the loan's observable market price or the fair value of its collateral. If the recorded investment in the impaired loan exceeds the measure of fair value, a valuation allowance is required as a component of the allowance for loan losses. Changes to the valuation allowance are recorded as a component of the provision for loan losses.

Allowance for loan losses

The allowance for loan losses is a valuation allowance available for losses incurred on loans. All losses are charged to the allowance for loan losses when the loss actually occurs or when a determination is made that a loss is likely to occur. Recoveries are credited to the allowance at the time of recovery. Periodically, during the year, management estimates the likely level of existing losses to determine whether the allowance for loan losses is adequate to absorb reasonably anticipated losses in the existing portfolio. Management also evaluates the collectability of the loans in light of historical experience, the nature and volume of the loan portfolio, adverse situations that may affect the borrower's ability to repay, estimated value of any underlying collateral, and prevailing economic conditions.

This evaluation is inherently subjective as it requires estimates that are susceptible to significant revision as more information becomes available. Based on these estimates, an amount is charged to the provision for loan losses and credited to the allowance for loan losses in order to adjust the allowance to a level determined to be adequate to absorb existing losses. It should be understood that estimates of loan losses involve an exercise of judgment. While it is possible that in particular periods the Bank may sustain losses which are substantial relative to the allowance for loan losses, it is the judgment of management that the allowance for loan losses reflected in the consolidated balance sheets is adequate to absorb probable losses in the existing loan portfolio.

The allowance consists of allocated and general components. The allocated component relates to loans that are classified as impaired. For these loans that are impaired, an allowance is established when the discounted cash flows (or collateral value or observable market price) of the impaired loan is lower than the carrying value of that loan. The general component covers non-classified loans and is based on historical loss experience adjusted for qualitative factors.

Troubled Debt Restructurings

In situations where, for economic or legal reasons related to a borrower's financial difficulties, the Bank grants a concession for other than an insignificant period of time to the borrower that the Bank would not otherwise consider, the related loan is classified as a troubled debt restructuring (TDR). The Bank strives to identify borrowers in financial difficulty early and work with them to modify to more affordable terms before their loan reaches nonaccrual status. These modified terms may include rate reductions, principal forgiveness, payment forbearance and other actions intended to minimize the economic loss and to avoid foreclosure or repossession of the collateral. In cases where the Bank grants the borrower new terms that provide for a reduction of either interest or principal, the Bank measures and records any impairment on the restructuring as previously noted for impaired loans.

Bank premises and equipment

Bank premises and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation, which is computed using straight-line and accelerated methods over the estimated useful lives of the assets, which range from 3 to 32 years.

Other real estate owned

Other real estate owned is reported at the lower of cost or fair value at the date of foreclosure. Any write-downs based on the asset's fair value at the date of acquisition are charged to the allowance for loan losses. After foreclosure, valuations are periodically performed by management and the real estate is carried at the lower of carrying amount or fair value less cost to sell. Real estate and other property acquired in lieu of loan balances, net of an appropriate reserve for possible losses, are included in the accompanying consolidated balance sheet. Operating expenses of such properties, net of related income, are included in other operating expenses. Gains and losses on their disposition are included in other operating income.

Intangible Assets

The Company has no intangible assets having indefinite lives other than goodwill. Intangible assets, such as core deposit intangibles, with determinable useful lives are amortized over their respective useful lives. Goodwill does not require amortization, but it is subject to a periodic impairment test. The Company has performed impairment tests on its goodwill and determined that there is no impairment at December 31, 2016 or 2015.

Credit related financial information

In the ordinary course of business, the Company has entered into commitments to extend credit, including commercial letters of credit and standby letters of credit. Such financial instruments are recorded when they are funded.

1. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

Statements of cash flows

The Company has defined cash equivalents as the amount in the consolidated balance sheet caption “Cash and Due from Banks” and “Federal Funds Sold,” if any exist at year-end.

Life insurance contracts

Life insurance contracts represent single premium life insurance contracts on the lives of certain officers of the Company. The Company is the owner of these policies, which were purchased in 2007 for $1,725,000, 2003 for $4,000,000, 2010 for $1,000,000 and in 2014 for $4,000,000 as a vehicle to fund split dollar endorsement plans. These contracts are reported at their cash surrender value and changes in the cash surrender value are included in other income and amounted to $324,745, $322,160 and $296,981 in 2016, 2015, and 2014, respectively.

Income taxes

Provisions for income taxes are based on taxes payable or refundable for the current year based on taxable income and deferred taxes on temporary differences between the tax basis of assets and liabilities and their reported amounts in the financial statements. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are included in the financial statements at currently enacted income tax rates applicable to the period in which the deferred tax assets and liabilities are expected to be realized or settled. As changes in tax laws or rates are enacted, deferred tax assets and liabilities are adjusted through the provision for income taxes.

The Company follows the accounting guidance related to accounting for uncertainty in income taxes, which sets out a consistent framework to determine the appropriate level of tax reserves to maintain for uncertain tax positions.

Deferred tax assets are recognized if it is more likely than not, based on the technical merits, that the tax position will be realized or sustained upon examination. The term more likely than not means a likelihood of more than 50 percent.

A tax position that meets the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold is initially and subsequently measured as the largest amount of tax benefit that has a greater than 50 percent likelihood of being realized upon settlement with a taxing authority that has full knowledge of all relevant information. The determination of whether or not a tax position has met the more-than-likely-than-not recognition threshold considers the facts, circumstances, and information available at the reporting date and is subject to management’s judgment. Deferred tax assets are reduced by a valuation allowance, if based on the weight of evidence available, it is more likely than not that some portion or all of deferred tax asset will not realized.

The Company recognizes interest and penalties on income taxes as a component of income tax expense.

1. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share represents income available to common shareholders divided by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during the period.

Postretirement Benefits

The Company adopted accounting guidance related to postretirement benefits for certain employees. The Company has effectively agreed to maintain a life insurance policy during the employees' retirement.

Reclassification

Certain amounts in the prior year consolidated financial statements have been reclassified to conform with the current year presentation.

2. Cash and due from banks

The Bank is required to maintain certain cash balances relating to its deposit liabilities. This requirement is ordinarily satisfied by cash on hand.

Most of these unrealized losses result from securities which were purchased at a premium in anticipation of a more stable interest rate environment. Management and the Asset/Liability Committee are continually monitoring the securities portfolio. Accordingly, management is able to effectively measure and monitor the unrealized loss position on these securities and because the Company does not intend to sell the securities and it is not more likely than not that the Company will be required to sell the investments before recovery of their amortized cost bases, the Company does not consider these securities to be other-than-temporarily impaired at December 31, 2016. Additionally, the Company believes that its premium amortization policies are appropriate and will result in a reasonable return on these investments being recorded in the statements of operations.

4. Loans and allowance for loan losses

The components of loans in the consolidated balance sheets at December 31, 2016 and 2015 were as follows (in thousands):

The Bank has an established methodology to determine the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses that assesses the risks and losses inherent in the Bank's portfolio. For purposes of determining the allowance for loan losses, the Bank segments loans in its portfolio by class code. The models and assumptions the Bank uses to determine the allowance are reviewed internally to ensure that their theoretical foundation, assumptions, data integrity, computational processes, reporting practices, and end-user controls are appropriate and properly documented.

The Bank's Estimation Process

The Bank estimates loan losses using a 5 year weighted average historical loss percentage for all loans, which are based on historical loss percentage and estimated losses on individually evaluated impaired loans. Management then applies judgment to develop its own view of loss probability using external and internal parameters with the objective of establishing an allowance for the losses inherent for these portfolios as of the reporting date.

4. Loans and allowance for loan losses (continued)

Substantially all of the Bank's consumer loans are secured by collateral. In order to track and measure the risk of nonperformance for these loans, the Bank periodically obtains updates of the credit scores for all loans and considers local economic factors which may affect collateral values.

Reflected in the portions of the allowance previously described is an amount for uncertainty inherent in estimates used for the allowance, which may change from period to period. This amount is the result of management's judgment of risks inherent in the portfolios, economic uncertainties, historical loss experience and other subjective factors, including industry trends, calculated to better reflect the Bank's view of risk in the loan portfolio. No single statistic or measurement determines the adequacy of the allowance for loan loss. Changes in the allowance for loan loss and the related provision expense can materially affect net income.

Loans by Segment

The total allowance reflects management's estimate of loan losses inherent in the loan portfolio at the balance sheet date. The Bank considers the allowance for loan losses of $6,358,630, $4,795,775 and $5,413,684 adequate to cover loan losses inherent in the loan portfolio at December 31, 2016, 2015 and 2014 respectively. The following table presents by loan segment, the changes in the allowance for loan losses and the recorded investment in loans.

4. Loans and allowance for loan losses (continued)

Credit Quality Information

All loans are subject to individual risk assessments using the following factors: ability of borrower to pay, financial condition of borrower, management ability of the borrower, collateral and guarantors, loan structure, and industry and economics. The Bank uses the following risk rating definitions to assess risk within the commercial loan portfolio.

Grade A – High quality loans are characterized by liquid collateral adequately margined and/or supported by a strong financial statement of recent date that is unquestionably reliable. Character of endorsers or guarantors is unquestionable. The business or individual is consistently above its peers. The borrower is characterized by liquidity, minimum risks, significant earning capacity and low handling costs (reflect no loss under any conceivable situation).

Grade B – Reflects strong, current financial statements and/or secured by collateral that is adequately margined to cover total debt plus any collection costs incurred in foreclosure if necessary. Primary, as well as secondary, source of repayment is evident. A defined agreed upon repayment schedule over a reasonable period exists.

Grade C – Satisfactory loans of average strength, having some deficiency or vulnerability to changing economics or industry conditions but currently collectible. Secured loan lacking in margin and/or liquidity. Assets supporting loans are generally non liquid and/or some form of documentation of support and/or repayment ability may be deficient or lacking.

Grade D – First classification that has relevance to Regulator classification. This is a warning classification which portrays one or more deficiencies that has potential weakness that may result in deterioration of repayment prospects for the asset or in the Bank's credit position at some future date. This is not adversely classified. Apparent deterioration in financial condition of credit is evident and deserves immediate attention and correction of its causes by the lending staff in order to prevent further deterioration of the Bank's position.

Grade E – Loans in this category are comprised of loans that have undue and unwarranted credit risk, may be inadequately protected by current sound worth and/or collection or liquidation in full is questionable, but because of certain reasonably specific pending factors which may strengthen the credit, its classification of a loss is deferred until a more exact status can be determined.

The Bank uses the following risk rating definitions to assess risk within the consumer and residential loan portfolio.

Pass – loans not meeting the special mention, doubtful, and substandard ratings are considered to be pass rated loans.

Special Mention – loans which are superior in quality to those classified substandard, doubtful, or loss but which are believed to warrant more than usual management attention. Loans in this category are not considered to be classified because they are currently protected but are potentially weak. They constitute an undue and unwarranted credit risk. Economic or market conditions may affect the borrower in the future. Adverse trends or an unbalanced financial position have not reached a point where liquidation of the debt is jeopardized, but that point could be reached in the future if trends continue.

Substandard – loans that are inadequately protected by current sound worth and paying capacity of the borrower, or pledged collateral, if any, or represents a protracted workout. These loans must have well defined weaknesses that are characterized by the distinct possibility that the Bank will sustain a loss if the deficiencies are not corrected.

Doubtful – loans that have all the weaknesses inherent in a substandard loan plus their collection or liquidation in full is highly questionable. The possibility of loss is extremely high, but because of certain reasonably specific pending factors which may strengthen the credit, its classification as a loss is deferred until a more exact status can be determined.

Loss – loans that are considered uncollectible in full within a reasonable length of time and are of such little value that their continuance as an active asset is not warranted. This classification does not mean that there is no possibility of recovery or salvage value, but rather it is not practical to defer writing off the asset even though a partial recovery may be made in the future.

Performing – loans not meeting the non-performing criteria are considered to be performing.

Non-performing – loans which are past due greater than 90 days and still accruing interest and loans on nonaccrual.

Nonaccrual Loans

Generally, consumer loans not secured by real estate or autos are placed on nonaccrual status only when part of the principal has been charged off. These loans are charged off or charged down to the net realizable value of the collateral when deemed uncollectible, due to bankruptcy or other factors.

The Bank places a loan on nonaccrual status, until it qualifies for return to accrual status. Generally the Bank returns a loan to accrual status when (a) all delinquent interest and principal become current under the terms of the loan agreement or (b) the loan is both well-secured and in the process of collection and collectability is no longer doubtful.

The Bank has determined that the entire balance of a loan is contractually delinquent for all classes if the minimum payment is not received by the specified due date on the borrower's statement. Interest and fees continue to accrue on past due loans until the date the loan goes into nonaccrual status, if applicable.

Impaired Loans

The Bank considers a loan to be impaired when, based on current information and events, the Bank determines that it will not be able to collect all amounts due according to the loan contract, including scheduled interest payments. Determination of impairment is treated the same across all classes of loans. When the Bank identifies a loan as impaired, the Bank measures the impairment based on the present value of expected future cash flows, discounted at the loan's effective interest rate, except when the sole (remaining) source of repayment for the loan is the operation or liquidation of the collateral. In these cases, the Bank uses the current fair value of the collateral, less selling costs when foreclosure is probable, instead of discounted cash flows. If the Bank determines that the value of the impaired loan is less than the recorded investment in the loan (net of previous charge-offs, deferred loan fees or costs and unamortized premium or discount), the Bank recognizes impairment through an allowance estimate or a charge-off to the allowance.

When the ultimate collectability of the total principal of an impaired loan is in doubt and the loan is on nonaccrual status, all payments are applied to principal, under the cost recovery method. When the ultimate collectability of the total principal of an impaired loan is not in doubt and the loan is on nonaccrual status, contractual interest is credited to interest income when received, under the cash basis method.

The amount of interest not accrued on impaired loans did not have a significant effect on earnings in 2016, 2015 or 2014. The Bank is not committed to lend additional funds to debtors whose loans have been modified.

The following table includes the recorded investment and unpaid principal balances for impaired loans with the associated allowance amount, if applicable. The Bank determined the specific allowance based on the present value of expected future cash flows, discounted at the loan's effective interest rate, except when the remaining source of repayment for the loan is the operation or liquidation of the collateral. In those cases, the current fair value of the collateral, less selling costs was used to determine the specific allowance recorded.

10. Employee benefits

The Company offers a 401(k) Plan (the "Plan") to all employees who have completed three months of service and who have attained age 20. Plan assets are invested in the Company's securities or several other investment options. Contributions to the Plan are at the discretion of the Board of Directors, with limitations based on a percentage of the participants' compensation. Annual contributions are allocated to each participant's account in an amount equal to each participant's deferred compensation for the year. A participant's interest in his or her account balance becomes fully vested after completion of five years of service. The Company contributed $431,524, $411,027 and $431,521, to the Plan in 2016, 2015, and 2014, respectively. At December 31, 2016 and 2015, the Plan held 32,149 and 31,559 shares in common stock of the Company, respectively.

The Bank also offers a life insurance joint beneficiary plan with some of its executive officers. The Bank is the owner and beneficiary of split-dollar life insurance policies covering the lives of the officers. The plan provides for payment upon death of a calculated amount based primarily on the officer's salary to be paid from the proceeds of the policies to the officers' designated beneficiaries. The benefits have been accrued in the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

11. Contingencies

The Company is a party to various legal proceedings arising in the ordinary course of business. In the opinion of management, the ultimate resolution of these legal proceedings will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

12. Financial instruments with off-balance-sheet risk

To meet the financing needs of its customers the Bank is a party to various financial instruments with off-balance sheet risk in the normal course of business. These financial instruments include commitments to extend credit, standby letters of credit, and commercial letters of credit. Those instruments involve, to varying degrees, elements of credit and interest rate risk in excess of the amounts recognized in the consolidated balance sheets. The contract or notional amounts of those instruments reflect the extent of the involvement the Bank has in particular classes of financial instruments. The Bank's exposure to credit loss in the event of nonperformance by the other party to the financial instrument for commitments to extend credit and standby letters of credit, and commercial letters of credit is represented by the contractual notional amount of those instruments. The Bank uses the same credit policies in making these commitments and conditional obligations as it does for on-balance sheet instruments.

The following is a summary as of December 31, 2016 and 2015, of the various financial instruments entered into by the Bank:

|                              | 2016    | 2015    |
|------------------------------|----------------|----------------|
| Commitments to extend credit | $ 108,331,452 | $ 108,798,450 |
| Standby letters of credit    | 3,262,253      | 2,930,909      |

Commitments to extend credit are agreements to lend to a customer as long as there is no violation of any condition established in the contract. Commitments generally have fixed expiration dates or other termination clauses and may require payment of a fee. Since many of the commitments are expected to expire without being fully drawn upon, the total commitment amounts disclosed above do not necessarily represent future cash requirements.

The Bank evaluates customers' creditworthiness on a case-by-case basis. The amount of collateral obtained, if considered necessary by the Bank upon extension of credit, is based on management's credit evaluation of the customer.

Standby letters of credit and commercial letters of credit are conditional commitments issued by the Bank to guarantee the performance of a customer to a third party. Essentially all letters of credit issued have expiration dates within one year. The credit risk involved in issuing letters of credit is essentially the same as that involved in extending loan facilities to its customers. The contractual amounts of credit-related financial instruments, such as commitments to extend credit and letters of credit, represent the amounts of potential accounting loss should the contract be fully drawn upon, the customer default, and the value of any existing collateral become worthless.

13. Minimum regulatory capital requirements

Both the Company and the Bank are subject to various regulatory capital requirements administered by the federal banking agencies. Failure to meet minimum capital requirements can initiate certain mandatory, and possibly additional discretionary actions, by regulators that, if undertaken, could have a direct material effect on the Company's and the Bank's financial statements. Under capital adequacy guidelines and the regulatory framework for prompt corrective action, both the Company and the Bank must meet specific capital guidelines that involve quantitative measures of their assets, liabilities, and certain off-balance-sheet items as calculated under regulatory accounting practices. The Bank's and the Company's capital amounts and classification are also subject to qualitative judgments by the regulators about components, risk weighting, and other factors.

13. Minimum regulatory capital requirements (continued)

Quantitative measures established by regulation to ensure capital adequacy require the Company and the Bank to maintain minimum amounts and ratios (set forth in the table below) of total and Tier I capital (as defined in the regulations) to risk-weighted assets (as defined), and of Tier I capital (as defined) to average assets (as defined). Management believes, as of December 31, 2016 and 2015, that the Company and the Bank meet all capital adequacy requirements to which they are subject.

In 2014, FDIC adopted final rules implementing the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision's capital guidelines for U.S. banks. Under the final rules, minimum requirements will increase for both the quantity and quality of capital held by the Bank. The rules include a new common equity Tier 1 capital to risk-weighted assets minimum ratio of 4.5%; raise the minimum ratio of Tier 1 capital to risk-weighted assets from 4.0% to 6.0%; require a minimum ratio of Total capital to risk-weighted assets of 8.0%; and require a minimum Tier 1 leverage ratio of 4.0%. A new capital conservation buffer, comprised of common equity Tier 1 capital, is also established above the minimum regulatory capital requirements. This capital conservation buffer was phased in beginning January 1, 2016 at 0.625% of risk-weighted assets and increases each subsequent year by an additional 0.625% until reaching its final level of 2.5% on January 1, 2019. Strict eligibility criteria for regulatory capital instruments were also implemented under the final rules.

The phase-in period for the final rules began for the Bank on January 1, 2015, with full compliance with all of the final rule's requirements phased in over a multi-year schedule and should be fully phased-in by January 1, 2019. Management believes that the Bank's capital levels will remain characterized as "well-capitalized" under the new rules.

The most recent examination by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (as of December 31, 2015) categorized the Bank as well capitalized under the regulatory framework for prompt corrective action. To remain as well capitalized the Bank must maintain the ratios as set forth in the tables below. There are no conditions or events since that notification that management believes have changed the institution's category. The Bank's actual capital amounts and ratios as of December 31, 2016 and 2015, are presented in the table below.

14. Disclosures about fair value of financial instruments

In accordance with the Fair Value Measurements and Disclosure topic of the Accounting Standards Codification, disclosure of fair value information about financial instruments, whether or not recognized in the balance sheets, is required. Fair value of a financial instrument is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Fair value is best determined based upon quoted market prices. In cases where quoted market prices are not available, fair values are based on estimates using present value or other valuation techniques. Those techniques are significantly affected by the assumptions used, including the discount rate and estimates of future cash flows. Accordingly, the fair value estimates may not be realized in an immediate settlement of the instruments. Therefore, the aggregate fair value amounts presented do not represent the underlying value of the Company.

The fair value guidance provides a consistent definition of fair value, which focuses on exit price in an orderly transaction (that is, not a forced liquidation or distressed sale) between market participants at the measurement date under current market conditions. If there has been a significant decrease in the volume and level of activity for the asset or liability, a change in valuation technique or the use of multiple valuation techniques may be appropriate. In such instances, determining the price at which willing market participants would transact at the measurement date under current market conditions depends on the facts and circumstances and requires use of significant judgment. The fair value is a reasonable point within the range that is most representative of fair value under current market conditions.

Fair Value Hierarchy

In accordance with this guidance, the Bank groups its financial assets and financial liabilities generally measured at fair value in three levels, based on the markets in which the assets and liabilities are traded and the reliability of the assumptions used to determine fair value.

- Level 1 – Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the Company has the ability to access.
- Level 2 – Inputs to the valuation methodology include quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets; quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets; inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability; inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means. If the asset or liability has a specified (contractual) term, the level 2 input must be observable for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.
- Level 3 – Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement, determined using model-based techniques that include option pricing models, discounted cash flow models, and similar techniques.

Assets and Liabilities Measured at Fair Value on a Recurring Basis

The following describes the hierarchy designations, valuation methodologies, and key inputs to measure fair value on a recurring basis for designated financial instruments.

Available for Sale Securities

Fair value estimates for investment securities are based on quoted market prices, where available (Level 1 inputs). If quoted market prices are not available, fair values are based on quoted market prices or comparable instruments (Level 2). The carrying amount of accrued interest on securities approximates its fair value.

There were no transfers between Level 1 or Level 2 during 2016 or 2015.

Assets and Liabilities Measured at Fair Value on a Non-Recurring Basis

The following describes the hierarchy designation, valuation methodologies, and key inputs for those assets that are measured at fair value on a non-recurring basis:

Impaired Loans

At the time a loan is considered impaired, it is recorded at the lower of cost or fair value. Impaired loans carried at fair value generally receive specific allocations of the allowance for loan losses. For collateral dependent loans, fair value is commonly based on recent real estate appraisals. These appraisals may utilize a single valuation approach or a combination of approaches including comparable sales and the income approach. Adjustments are routinely made in the appraisal process by the independent appraisers to adjust for differences between the comparable sales and income data available. Such adjustments are usually significant and typically result in a Level 3 classification of the inputs for determining fair value. Non-real estate collateral may be valued using an appraisal, net book value per the borrower's financial statements or aging reports, adjusted or discounted based on management's historical knowledge, changes in market conditions from the time of the valuation and management's expertise and knowledge of the client and client's business, resulting in a Level 3 fair value classification.

Foreclosed Assets

Assets acquired through or instead of loan foreclosure are initially recorded at fair value less costs to sell when acquired, establishing a new cost basis. These assets are subsequently accounted for at the lower of cost or fair value less estimated costs to sell. Fair value is commonly based on recent real estate appraisals. These appraisals may utilize a single valuation approach or a combination of approaches including comparable sales and the income approach. Adjustments are routinely made in the appraisal process by the independent appraisers to adjust for differences between the comparable sales and income data available. Such adjustments typically result in a Level 2 classification of the inputs for determining fair value.

The estimated fair value approximates carrying amounts for all items except those described below. The carrying amounts of cash and short-term instruments approximate fair values and are classified as either Level 1 or Level 2. Estimated fair value for both securities available-for-sale and held-to-maturity is as previously described for securities available-for-sale. Fair value of loans are estimated as set forth below:

The methods assumptions, not previously presented, used to estimate fair values are described as follows:

Cash and Cash Equivalents

The carrying amounts of cash and cash equivalents approximate fair values and are classified as Level 1.

Interest Earning Deposits in Other Depository Institutions

The carrying amount of interest-earning deposits approximates fair value and are classified as Level 1.

14. Disclosures about fair value of financial instruments (continued)

Loans Receivable, Net

The fair value of loans is estimated through discounted cash flow analysis using current rates at which loans with similar terms would be made to borrowers of similar credit quality resulting in a Level 3 classification. Appropriate adjustments are made to reflect probable credit losses. The carrying amount of accrued interest on loans approximated its fair value.

Other stocks, at cost

The value of the stock is based on the current book value per common share of stock and is classified as Level 2.

Deposit Liabilities

ASC 825 specifies that the fair value of deposit liabilities with no defined maturity is the amount payable on demand at the reporting date, i.e., their carrying or book value. The fair value of fixed-rate certificates of deposit is estimated using a discounted cash flow calculation that applies interest rates currently offered on certificates of similar remaining maturities to a schedule of aggregate expected cash flows on time deposits and are classified as Level 2.

Short-Term Borrowings

The carrying amounts of federal funds purchased, borrowings under repurchase agreements, and other short-term borrowings maturing within ninety days approximate their fair values. Fair values of other short-term borrowings are estimated using discounted cash flow analyses based on current market rates for similar types of borrowing arrangements and are classified as Level 2.

Advances from Federal Home Loan Bank

The fair value of fixed rate borrowings is estimated using discounted cash flows, based on current incremental borrowing rates for similar types of borrowing arrangements and is classified as Level 2.

Accrued Interest Receivable/Payable

The carrying amount of accrued interest receivable/payable approximates its fair value resulting in a Level 2 or Level 3 classification consistent with the classification of the asset/liability with which they are associated.

Off-Balance Sheet Instruments

Off-balance sheet financial instruments include commitments to extend credit and undisbursed lines of credit. The fair value of such instruments is estimated using fees currently charged for similar arrangements in the marketplace, adjusted for changes in terms and credit risk as appropriate. The estimated fair value for these instruments was not significant at December 31, 2016 and 2015. The contract or notional amounts of the Company's financial instruments with off-balance sheet risk are disclosed in Note 12.

|                             | 2016         | 2015         |

Interest of 6.75% per annum, is due semiannually of each year through January 15, 2022 and quarterly thereafter when the rate shall reset quarterly to an interest rate per annum equal to the then current three-month LIBOR rate plus 469.0 basis points.
